Resident Spotlight Pat Johnson

This month, we're proud to spotlight Pat, a Northeast Minneapolis native whose life story reflects determination, hard work, and love for family. Pat spent much of her career in clerical work and data entry, where her skills and attention to detail served her well over the years. One of her biggest inspirations along the way? Her typing teacher – proof that even small influences can have a lasting impact. At just 16, Pat left home and began building her own path. While balancing life's responsibilities, she dedicated 15 years to attending night school – an incredible commitment that led to one of her proudest achievements: earning her four-year college degree.

In her free time, Pat enjoys sewing and lifelong learning. She has a love for country music, pasta, and celebrating Christmas each year. Pat met her spouse at her mother's house, and together they raised three children – two girls and one boy – who she says are "the best." She chose to move to our community for the convenience of having a washer and dryer in her apartment, and we're so happy to have her here. We are so lucky to have her as part of our community and to share in her inspiring story. Welcome home, Pat!

Take a trip down memory lane! Submit a photo of you "back in the day" to Allison by June 25th. Residents will have fun guessing who's who on June 26th!
